

It's A Safe Bet You Have A Drug Problem If...

... you can count the solid food particles you've consumed on one hand...

... they count back at you...

... you no longer consume solid food.

... you're a Lilly employee and you're super anti-depressed

... you're a Lilly exec and you have a stockpile of Prozac to move in tonnage quantity...

... you take your annual bonus in "doses."

... you think the Colts need a new stadium....

... you think the Colts need a new location...

... you think you control the team.

... you know where Crack Town is...

... you know a crack 'ho'...

... you move there, or become one.

... your facial muscles no longer move...

... people seem frightened by your smile...

... you have to stop looking in the mirror.

...